

CURTIS BURNS TROPHY

The Curtis Burns Trophy was donated in 2007 to the NRA by Mrs. Curtis M. Burns in honor of her husband, Major (Ret. AF) Curtis Burns, USAF, Texas A&M University Pistol Coach since 1974. Their son, Frederick W. Burns, and his wife Tracie McFadden Burns joined Mrs. Burns with the donation.

The trophy consists of a 10" Red Footed Nordika Bowl, hand crafted by the Krystof Crystal Company, setting on a two tiered pentagonal shaped red cherry wooden base equipped with hidden lights to help enhance the beauty of the red crystal bowl.

This trophy is awarded annually to the ROTC Standard Pistol Championship Team at the NRA Intercollegiate Pistol Championships.

Match Conditions:

2008 Winning ROTC Collegiate Standard Pistol Team in the NRA Intercollegiate Pistol Championships.

TROPHY WINNERS

2008	Texas A & M ROTC	1996
2009	University of Utah ROTC	1932